

Need of Sales and Inventory Management System

The customer has a problem about to manage their products/inventory and he wants an automatic system to maintain their shop inventory and he's want to check the remaining quantity and check with product is selling most. Customer also wants to check their sale and make it computerized so that he can easily made a sale and give the print of transact and save the record of the sales.

This system provide database for storing their sale and his inventory very efficient.